Dear Jeff:

We would like to convey to you how much we enjoy the house that Bo Bud Construction built for us during 2012. We also deeply appreciate how well you and everyone who is a part of the Bo Bud team worked with us to create a home which is tailored to the way we wanted to live.

From the first time we sat down together to discuss the modifications which we were asking be made to the Meadowview design, you, your on-site foreman, Josh Keithly, and the balance of the Bo Bud team were all attentive to our desires and thoroughly professional in discussing them with us. In several cases, while you and your team pointed out problems with aspects of our requests you also worked effectively with us to help us achieve the functionality we desired in a manner that is structurally sound and cost effective.

We have a friend who is in the home renovation industry; he visited our new Bo Bud house with us while it was under construction. He was very impressed with the materials Bo Bud uses, with the workmanship evident in all areas (carpentry, electrical, plumbing, concrete, brickwork, etc.), and with what a clean construction site you and your colleagues maintain. We moved in during December 2012 and have found the house to maintain temperatures during all seasons at reasonable cost; the house is continuously comfortable and is remarkably functional for how we like to live.

We have other friends who have recently had homes built. In most cases, our friends have experienced a very difficult, enervating and even exasperating process. Most builders are far less willing to accommodate customization requests from their customers. It also seems that some builders do not maintain the same high standards of quality in their workmanship that is clearly a hallmark of Bo Bud and the firms with which you collaborate. And, in the case of the handful of minor glitches which we have discovered since we moved in, you and your team have been rapid and thorough in resolving them.

We remain most appreciative of how well you and everyone on the Bo Bud team worked with us and extremely happy with our new home.

Warm regards and deep appreciation,

Patrick Rayermann Emma Vecht
